What Should You Do BEFORE Water Leak Repair Professionals Arrive?

As soon as you suspect a broken pipe, turn off the water at the stop tap. This is usually located near the water meter or where the main pipe connects with your house. Drain the pipes by turning on all the faucets and flushing the toilet. Shut the water heater off and again, turn on each faucet to drain the hot water supply. Once the pipe completely drains, the leak should stop.

Signs of Water Damage From a Hidden Leak

A room that is more humid than usual could be a sign of a hidden leak. Dark stains on the wall, ceiling or the floor could indicate a burst pipe. The presence of mold and mildew is also a tell-tale sign of a water leak, but the most obvious would be higher meter readings and an increase in your water bill.
